

Listed 20 Jan 2010

Group Manager - Engineering (Ashburton Based)

Due to expansion and clear strategic direction, a new role has been created to lead and manage our Engineering & Manufacturing and Signs & Graphics business units.

The Spray Marks Group is a dynamic and progressive group of companies that undertake a range of activities from road marking and related services, traffic management and sign hire, signs manufacture, plant maintenance, engineering and manufacturing.

We are currently searching for a Group Manager - Engineering with extensive experience in business management and operational familiarity preferably within the engineering industry.

Reporting to the Managing Director and contributing to an experienced Management team, you will be responsible for the profitability and management of our engineering business in accordance with our vision, values and mission whilst ensuring that the Group financial objectives are met.

Essential to this role are the following skills and experience:

- Proven success in managing business units within engineering industry (or similar).
- Extensive engineering and manufacturing knowledge.
- Experience in business development - building strategic relationships with customers and suppliers.
- Strong interpersonal and people management skills with a focus on group culture.
- Sales and marketing skills – ability to create and effective manage S & M plans.
- Clear understanding of the quoting/tender and contract process.
- Project management skills which include clear and concise reporting using relevant tools.
- Ability to meet financial and reporting objectives.
- A high level knowledge of Health and Safety and Quality processes and procedures.
- Managing high work flows, focussing on efficiency and quality, whilst meeting contractual deadlines.

You will need to be a focused and energetic individual with the ability to build rapport and display strong operational and business management skills from the outset.

Ideally you will have a relevant tertiary education or have extensive experience within the industry.

In return for your experience, knowledge and professionalism you will be working for a well-known and driven company and be rewarded with an executive package commensurate with experience.

This is a great opportunity for the successful applicant to become part of an exciting industry.

www.spraymarks.co.nz

Please apply online through SEEK website.

Courtney Hyde
HR Consultant
Hyde Human Solutions
0275720034